

Faculty Distance Education Committee RECOMMENDATION 102

PASADENA CITY COLLEGE October 2018

Distance Education Committee Mission Statement (Revision)

(Original version approved by the Academic Senate April 2009)

The mission of the Faculty Distance Education (FDEC) Committee is to recommend policies and practices that support faculty teaching online and contribute to distance education course quality and student success at Pasadena City College. The committee serves as the Academic Senate's primary recommending body on academic and professional matters regarding distance education and online learning.

Functions

- A. Provides a forum for evaluating evolving issues in distance education and online learning.
- B. Makes recommendations to the Academic Senate regarding all aspects of distance education and online learning.
- C. Supports faculty in development and delivery of their distance education courses by identifying and promoting best practices and resources for distance education course delivery.
- D. Collaborates and coordinates on areas of mutual interest with other senate committees and campus constituencies.

Revised Statement Approved by the Distance Education Committee - October 9, 2018

Revised Statement Approved by the Academic Senate- October 22, 2018